

Privacy Policy

At Lunar FBA, we prioritise your privacy. This policy outlines how we handle information collected from you through our website, <https://lunarfba.com>, and other platforms we operate.

Information We Collect:

Legal Bases for Processing:

We process your information lawfully, fairly, and transparently based on legal grounds such as contract performance, legitimate interests, consent, or legal obligations. We retain data only as long as necessary, ensuring its protection within acceptable means.

Collection and Use of Information:

We collect, hold, use, and disclose information for internal record keeping, administrative purposes, and legal compliance.

Disclosure of Personal Information to Third Parties:

We may disclose personal information to third parties for data collection and processing.

International Transfers of Personal Information:

Collected information may be stored and processed in the United Kingdom and the United States. By providing your information, you consent to its disclosure to overseas third parties. We take measures to protect data transfers.

Your Rights and Controlling Your Personal Information:

You have the right to control your personal information, including choice, consent, restriction, access, data portability, correction, notification of data breaches, complaints, and unsubscribe options.

Business Transfers:

In case of acquisition or business changes, data, including personal information, may be transferred to acquiring parties while adhering to this policy.

Additional Details:

Lunar FBA customers can receive access to in-house tools, and user details are stored locally for functionality. Discord login verifies membership only.

Limits of Our Policy:

Our website may link to external sites, and we do not control their privacy practices, disclaiming responsibility.

Changes to This Policy:

We may update our privacy policy to reflect current practices. Users will be informed of changes, and continued use implies acceptance.

This policy is effective as of Friday 20th July 2025.
